Welcome Message

Greetings to all.

It is said that success breeds success. With success comes a sense of fulfillment and happiness. These are the catalysts for further growth and development. It is precisely these thoughts that flow through my pen as I put it to paper to announce the comeback to Bangalore

Expodent - 2017 on 4th & 5th November 2017

India today is seeing a Government at the centre whose professed goals for the revival of the economy is encouraging industrial, technological and scientific development through establishing fast track special bodies to accord sanctions for setting up manufacturing hubs, encouraging local entrepreneurs to "Make in India" as the Hon'ble PM has said by tying up with overseas manufacturers for latest technology etc.

One significant outcome of this approach is the thrust that is proposed to be given to the medical equipment manufacturing industry. This as the Hon'ble Health Minister has said would be achieved through a multi-pronged strategy of equipping all Govt. Hospitals and health centres with quality equipments, setting up new teaching colleges in all states at district level and giving financial support to indigenous manufacturers through soft loans etc. This is indeed welcome news to us in the medical field.

Mere talk about technology, collaboration etc is one thing. But to keep abreast of developments, getting to see the 'innovations in action' and to be a part of it is quite another thing. This is where Expodent stands out. Year after year, Expodent lines up the cream of the cream, the frontrunners in the dental equipments arena for everybody to see. It is a truism that 'knowledge is power'.

So friends, do I need to say more? Come, see, participate, put up your own stall and be a part of this annual, not to be missed extravaganza.

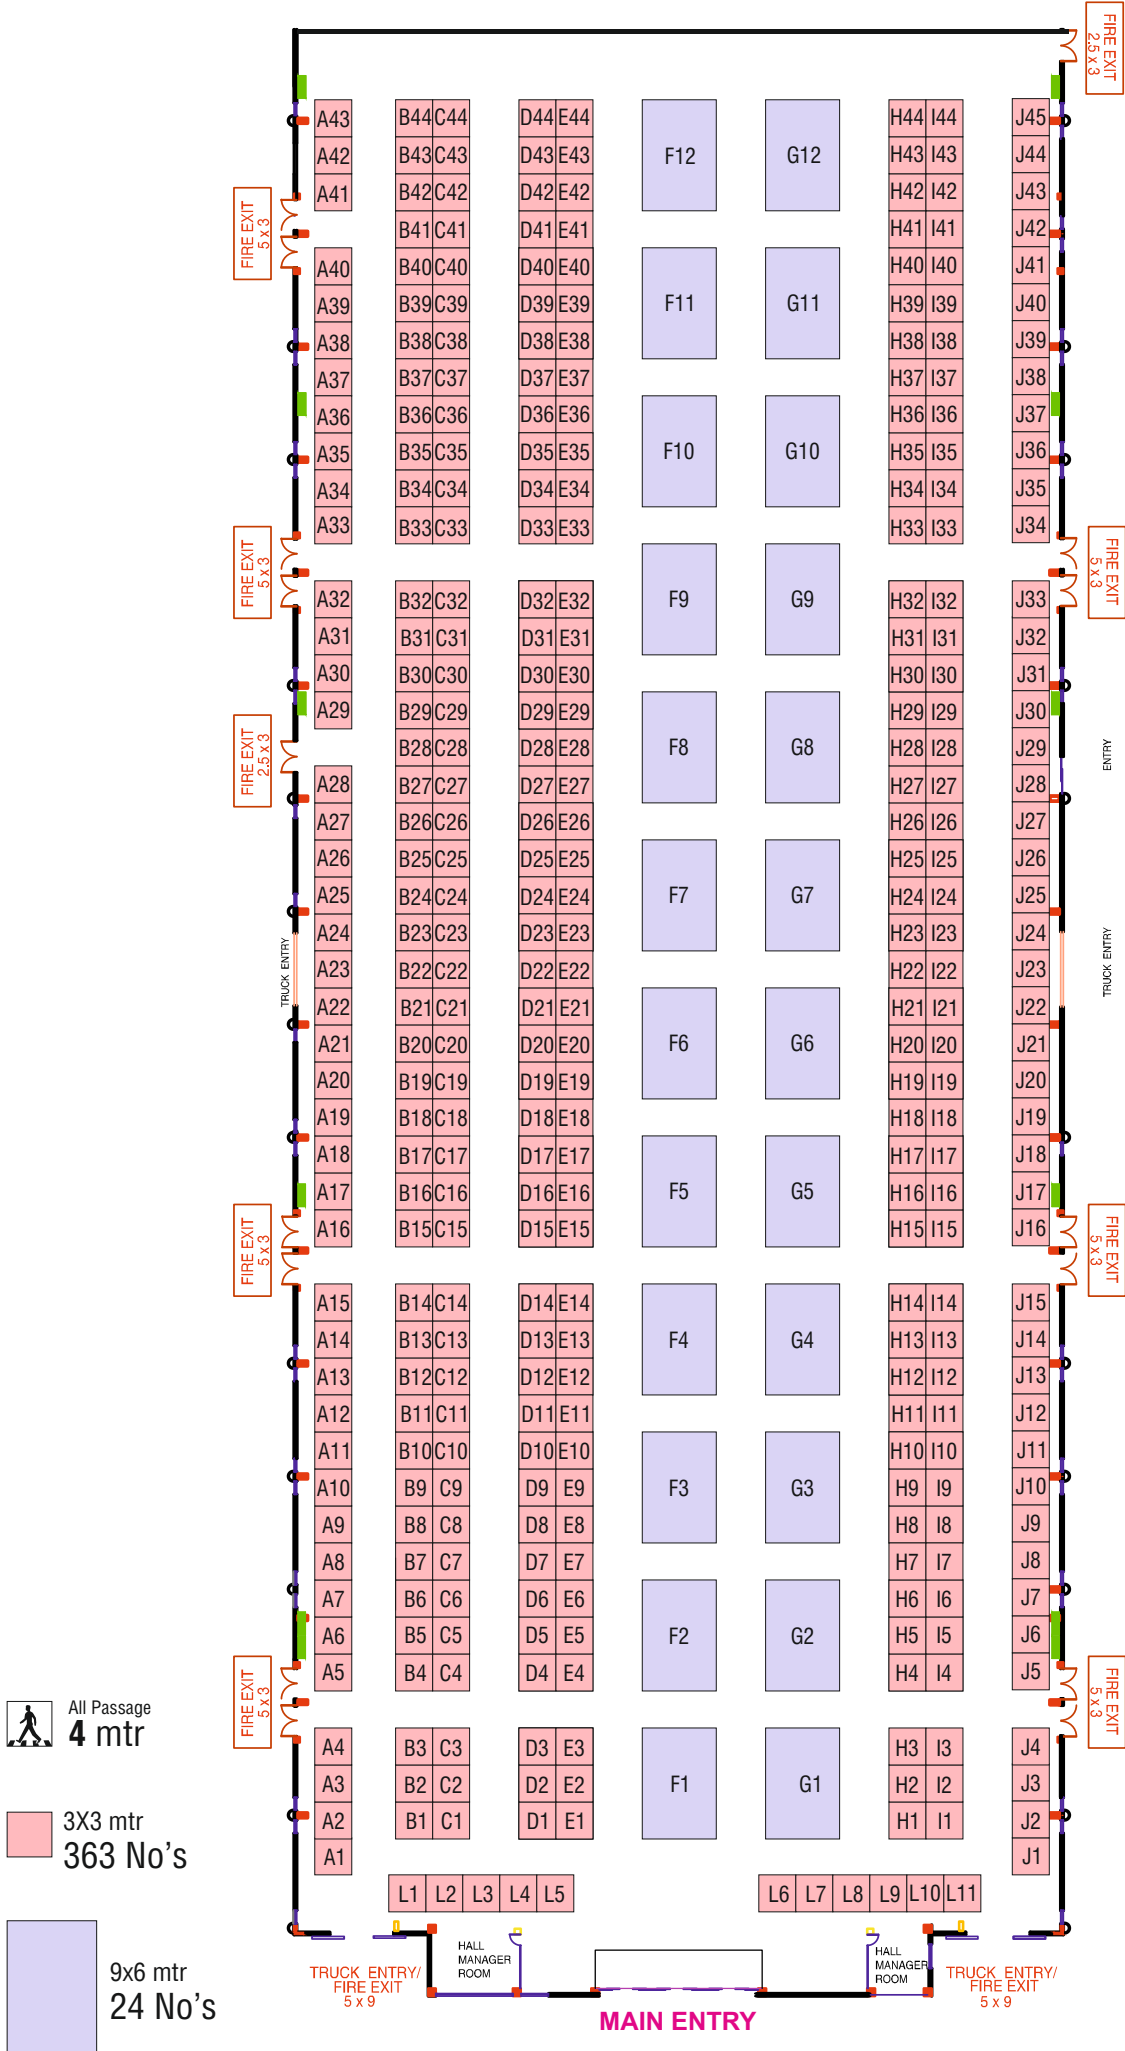

With Warm Regards

Yours as ever,

Dr. B. Subashchandra Shetty | MDS

Chairman - Organizing Committee
